

Grandmaster of Avant-Garde

The Chess Art of Galina Satonina

Compiled and edited by
Vladimir Kudryavtsev,
Doctor of Arts

Grandmaster of Avant-Garde
The Chess Art of Galina Satonina

Compiled and edited by Vladimir Kudryavtsev, Doctor of Arts

Translated from the Russian by Alexei Zakharov

Design by Yakov Krasnovsky

Typesetting by Andrei Elkov

© LLC Elk and Ruby Publishing House, 2023 (with added bonus material)

First published in Russian in 2018 by Russian Chess House

Follow us on Twitter: @ilan_ruby

www.elkandruby.com

ISBN 978-5-6047849-9-0 (hardback), 978-5-6047849-4-5 (paperback)

The publisher would like to thank the Chess Museum of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House in Moscow and Dmitry Oleinikov personally for providing some of Galina Ivanovna Satonina's works.

The album features the work of the great Soviet chess artist Galina Ivanovna Satonina (1905–2000).

A pupil of Nicolai Fechin, Konstantin Chebotaryov and Alexandra Platunova, leading members of the Kazan Avant-Garde school, she found her own innovative way in art, her own original technique. A multiple-time Kazan and Tatarstan ladies chess champion, she saw life as a game of chess, and her paintings speak the language of Caissa.

1. Galina Ivanovna Satonina. Photo. 1980s.
From Satonina's archive.

Contents

A Legendary Chess Artist and Player, by Vladimir Kudryavtsev .....	5
From the Chess Situations Series .....	39
From the Masks of Emotions Series .....	57
From the Chess Stars and World Champions Series .....	63
Works not Belonging to Any Series.....	77
Bookplates.....	92
Recollections of the Kazan Art School in the 1920s, by Galina Satonina.....	95
Bonus Material.....	97
List of Illustrations.....	99

A Legendary Chess Artist and Player, by Vladimir Kudryavtsev

Galina Ivanovna Satonina (1905–2000) dedicated her long and eventful life to fine art, chess and poetry. She was constantly surrounded by loyal, kindred spirits and talented colleagues. An exceptional person who played chess passionately and professionally, she glorified this great form of art with her paintings and drawings. Later, she would state in her autobiography that she discovered the world of visual arts through chess and remained loyal to chess for her entire life. While poetry, like a breath of fresh air, gave wings to her artistic creations. She wrote (here and later in this book, the original poetry rhymed),

*The board is square, the pieces on it
Are standing ceremoniously in rows.
And you can't imagine how many tempests
These soulless pieces are hiding...*

Satonina was born on 14th December 1905 in Kazan. At the age of 7, she was sent to a girls grammar school; its founder and head teacher, V. I. Ryakhina, sought out alumni of Kazan, St. Petersburg and Moscow universities as teachers. The talented pedagogues cultivated a high cultural level among the pupils of this pre-revolutionary school. The Ryakhina School, one of four similar schools in Kazan at the time, distinguished its pupils by their gray uniform. Satonina remained loyal to that color for her entire life, combining its silvery shades and rich tones in her artist's clothes and carefully chosen accessories.

Ryakhina's private school was located in the house of merchant L. V. Kekin, who built it based on a design by architect G. B. Rush from his own bricks, the best in the Kazan region. The project, upon the whim of the customer, was created in a mixed style, organically blending eclectics and modernism with elements of Gothic and Mauritanian architecture. The restored mansion, still hiding the mysterious secrets of its owner, became a unique landmark in Kazan and still attracts the attention of contemporaries.

Galina Satonina studied hard, taking a particular interest in physics and mathematics. Despite poverty (the family had ten children), her older brother Konstantin rented a piano and regularly brought paint home for the family. Everyone dabbled in painting, but only Galina remained loyal to the art. She often watched her brothers play chess and started to play herself. She was also Vladimir Gennadyevich Kudryavtsev is a Doctor of Arts, member of the Russian Artists Union, and Distinguished Art Worker of the Russian Federation. He graduated from the I. E. Repin Institute of Art, Sculpture and Architecture (1982). Vladimir wrote the books M. G. Platunov – Artist and Teacher (1986), Mari Graphics (2001), Mari Wooden Architecture (2004), and Folklore of the Finno-Ugric Peoples of the Volga and Ural Regions in 20th Century Graphics (2010). He published the albums Artists of the Mari El Republic (2011), Visual Art of the Russian Federation. Volga Region (2013), and The Young Volga (2015). A promoter of the Finno-Ugric artist movement and organizer of exhibitions of modern art of Finno-Ugric peoples in Helsinki (Ugriculture 2000), in the German embassy in Moscow (The Colors of Mari El), as well as in Yoshkar-Ola, Izhevsk, Syktyvkar, and Elabuga. He helps to organize regional workshops and plein air meetings.

2. The house of merchant L. V. Kekin, where the 4th Girls Grammar School was situated. Kazan. Architect G. B. Rush. Photo. Early 20th century.

3. Kazan Art School (Kazan Art and Technical Institute from 1921). Architect K. L. Myufke. Phototype. Sherer, Nabgolz and Co., 1905.

interested in sports. After graduating from school, Galina, on the advice of her brother Viktor, an architect and graphic artist, enrolled in the Kazan Art and Technical Institute (since 1921, this was the official name of the Kazan Art School, established back in 1895 under the auspices of the Academy of Arts. Today it is known as the Nicolai Fechin Kazan Art College).

At the time, the institute contained painting, sculpture, architectural and drawing faculties. It housed free painting classes on Sundays, a museum and a library. In 1923–1924, the institution was reorganized into the Kazan Architectural and Art Technical School (most often known by the abbreviations ARKHUMAS or KAKHUMAS – signifying Architectural and Art Workshops

48. Racing to Queen. 1971.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 36x30.

78. Lasker. 1977.

Cardboard, oil, splatter. 42x55.

From the collection of the
M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess
House Chess Museum, Moscow.

List of Illustrations

Page	Illustration
3	1      1. Galina Ivanovna Satonina. Photo. 1980s. From Satonina's archive.
6	2      The house of merchant L. V. Kekin, where the 4 th Girls Grammar School was situated. Kazan. Architect G. B. Rush. Photo. Early 20 th century.
6	3      Kazan Art School (Kazan Art and Technical Institute from 1921). Architect K. L. Myufke. Phototype. Sherer, Nabgolz and Co., 1905.
7	4      ARKHUMAS community. 25 th May 1925. 1 st row, right to left: Faik Tagirov, Dmitry Krasilnikov, Evgeny Ryabyshev, Konstantin Konstantinov. 2 nd row, right to left: Alexandra Korotkova, Alexander Shevyakov, Grigory Komarov. 3 rd row, right to left: Naum Slavin, Mikhail Ositanin. Photo. From Satonina's family archive.
8	5      Konstantin Chebotaryov. Red Army (Marseillaise (Fortissimo)) . 1917–1918. Cardboard, tempera. 81.5x101. From the collection of the Tatarstan Republic State Museum of Art.
9	6      Galina Satonina. An Image of E. Chastikhina . 1925. Paper, watercolor, gouache, drafting ink, pen, pencil. 14.8x9.2. From the collection of the Tatarstan Republic State Museum of Art.
9	7      Alexandra Platunova. Street Urchins . 1926. Canvas on cardboard, oil. 70x70. From the collection of the Chuvash State Museum of Art. Chuvash Republic, Cheboksary.
10	8      Konstantin Chebotaryov and Alexandra Platunova. Photo. 1920s. Russian State Archive of Literature and Art.
12-13	9–10      Illustrations for Vladimir Mayakovsky's poem Black and White . 1930. Paper, oil, splatter. 50x45.
14-15	11–13      Cover and spreads of the author's folding book The Battle of Two Knights . 1934. Cardboard, colored paper, tracing paper, drafting ink, pencil, gouache, cardboard relief. 14.3x17.
16-17	14–17      Cover and spreads of the author's book The Battle of Two Knights . 1970s. Cardboard, tinted paper, cardboard relief covered by cloth paper, sewn with bonded thread, oil, splatter. 16.2x16.5.
18	18–21      Cover, endpaper and spreads of the author's book From the 1941 Chess Championship . Text and illustrations by G. Satonina. 1941. Solid cardboard binding covered by cloth paper, mixed technique, cutouts. 10x15.5.
19	22      Cover for the game collection of the Mikenas – Nezhmetdinov match. Kazan, 1948. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 35x26.
19	23      Galina Satonina's bookplate. 1971. Paper, drafting ink.
20	24      Platunova and Satonina at the opening of the exhibition "Platunova, Chebotaryov" in the Tatarstan Republic State Museum of Art. 21 st April 1964. Photo. From the book by N. M. Valeev, Konstantin Chebotaryov, Alexandra Platunova. In Search for the Way in Art (Kazan 2016), p. 228.
22	25      Page from the chess newspaper 64 (No. 38, 1973) about Galina Satonina's works.

- 22 26 Page from the German magazine Neue Berliner Illustrierte about Galina Satonina's works, 1971.
- 22 27 Page from the Czech magazine Ceskoslovensky Sach about Galina Satonina's exhibition in Moscow, 1966.
- 22 28 Page from the magazine Shakhmaty v SSSR with a review of Galina Satonina's exhibition in the Kazan Education Workers House, 1966.
- 23 29 Cover of the postcard set Soviet World Sports Champions. Chess, 1982.
Compiled and written by Vladimir Dvorkovich.
Copies of Galina Satonina's paintings were used for the cover design.
- 24 30 Attack. 1967. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 37x55.
- 25 31 The Pipe of Peace. 1978. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 60x40.
From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 27 32 Fork. 1968.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 43x55
- 28 33 Time Trouble. 1975.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 35x45
- 29 34 Zugzwang. 1971.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 60x31.
From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 30 35 Fischer. In America's Grip. 1982.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 43x31.
- 31 36 Lasker. The Last Simul. 1976. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 42x55.
- 33 37 Chess Tempers the Will and Teaches Us to Win in the Fight.
Late 1930s.
Plywood, oil, relief. 26x48.
- 33 38–41 Bookplates: Tigran Petrosian (1977), Nona Gaprindashvili (1975), David Bronstein (1977), Mikhail Tal (1976).
Paper, drafting ink.
- 34 42–43 Pocket chess set. 1970s.
Cover: solid cardboard, covered by cloth. Oil, splatter. 16.5x11.
- 34 44–45 Title page and page of sheet music from The Chess Tragedy (Poem for the Piano). 1981.
- 35 46 It Happens Sometimes That Life Passes Like Soap Bubbles. 1968.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 47x22.
- 36 47 The Candle Burns Out. Self-portrait. 1978.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 44x30.
- 39 48 Racing to Queen. 1971.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 36x30.
- 40 49 49. Fight at the Castle. 1976.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 45x48.
- 41 50 50. The Kings. Zugzwang and Smothered Mate.
1971. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 42x50.
- 42 51 Attraction. 1977.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 26x50.
Dedication on the back: "To Emil Vasilyevich Elpidinsky from the author. G. Satonina. 5th January 1985."

- 43 52 The Last Defense. 1984.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 48x32.
- 44 53 Smothered Mate. 1977.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 50x30.
- 45 54 The Nightmare. 1981. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 44x44. From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 46 55 It's All Over. 1981.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 30x42.
Author's inscription on the back: "The funeral bells over the field grip the heart with sharp sorrow."
- 47 56 Requiem. 1981. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 33x43.
- 48 57 The Attack and the Tamed Knight. 1969.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 33x53.
- 49 58 Analysis. 1969.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 42x28.
- 50 59 The Peaceful Result. 1978.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 46x30.
From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 51 60 The Struggle. 1980. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 32x42.
- 52 61 Tempest. 1972.
Paper, oil, splatter. 26x18.
- 53 62 The Duel. 1969.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 26x39.
- 53 63 The Worrying Letter.
1976. Paper, oil, splatter. 30x46.
- 54 64 Unnamed. 1970.
Paper, oil, splatter. 48x36.
- 55 65 Unnamed. 1970.
Paper, oil, splatter. 48x30.
- 56 66 The Sacrifice. 1970s.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 34x29.
- 57 67 The Nightmare. 1973.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x35.
- 58 68 Horror. 1975.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 37x37.
- 59 69 Anger. 1975.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 36x35.
- 60 70 Schadenfreude. 1972.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 33x32.
- 61 71 Despair. 1972.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 34x34.
- 62 72 Justice. 1972.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 32x32.

- 63 73 Morphy. 1975.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 46x33.
- 64 74 Anderssen. 1978.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 60x42.
From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 65 75 Tal. Into the Fire of Attack. 1975.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 35x56.
- 66 76 Capablanca and Alekhine. 1977.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x55. From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 67 77 Alekhine's End. 1977.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 43x55.
From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 68 78 Lasker. 1977.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 42x55.
From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 69 79 Lasker and Cards. Poker. 1977.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x29.
- 70 80 Steinitz's End. 1975.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 55x43.
From the collection of the M. M. Botvinnik Central Chess House Chess Museum, Moscow.
- 71 81 Steinitz – Chigorin. 1980.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x56.
- 72 82 Kasparov. 1987.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 35x46.
- 73 83 Return Match. Battle for the Crown. 1987.
Paper, oil, splatter. 37x37.
- 74-75 84 Polugaevsky – Nezhmetdinov. Late 1960s.
Triptych. Cardboard, oil, splatter. 51x20, 51x54, 51x25.
- 76 85 Philidor. 1976.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 41x43.
- 77 86 Kazan. The Way to the Port. Dedicated to All my Kazan Friends. 1965.
Author's inscription on the back of the mounting: "My harbor is here, and my friends are here..."
Paper, oil, splatter, 26x19.
- 78 87 Kazan. Mosque. Drifting Snow. 1971.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 36x26.
- 79 88 January. 1973.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 35x17.
- 80 89 The Lone Wanderer. 1973.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 38x24.
- 81 90 The Demon. 1973.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x34.
- 82 91 The Jester. 1973.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x34.

- 83 92 The Queen of Spades. 1974.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 48x38.
- 84 93 Mephistopheles. 1973.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x34.
- 85 94 First part of the triptych Artist K. K. Chebotaryov. The Beginning of the Journey. Revolution. 1983.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 52x39.
- 86 95 Third part of the triptych Artist K. K. Chebotaryov. Lonely Old Age. 1983.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 50x34.
- 87 96 Paganini. 1979.
Paper, oil, splatter. 39x55.
- 88 97 Vysotsky. Hamlet. 1986.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 40x26.
- 89 98 Blok. Night, Street, Lamp, Pharmacy. 1983.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 45x30.
- 90-91 99 Johann S. Bach. Triptych. 1977.
Cardboard, oil, splatter. 49x78.
- 92-93 100–
115 Bookplates: V. Smyslov (1977), M. Botvinnik (1981), I. Linder (1980), M. Chiburdanidze (1981),
M. Taimanov (1974), M. Gordeev (1973), V. Dvorkovich (1973), G. Elpidinskaya (1978), B. Smirensky
(1966), Uvakin (1970), Z. Gershenson (1980), P. Efimov (1978), Elpidinsky family (1982), E. Elpidinsky
(1974), A. Elpidinsky (1977), L. Semyonov (1978)
- 94 116 ARKHUMAS students.
Photo. Mid-1920s. Top row, first on the right – Galina Satonina.
From Satonina's archive.
- 97 117 The King's Demise – Checkmate
- 97 118 Max Euwe
- 97 119 Sultan Khan
- 97 120 Vassily Smyslov
- 98 121 Mikhail Tal
- 98 122 Alekhine's End (alternative version)
- 98 123 Mikhail Botvinnik (with Tal, Petrosian and Smyslov)
- 98 124 Boris Spassky